Alsace and Lorraine go to France. Rhine on their borders to be in

Port of Danzig internationalized permanently and most of upper Silesia ceded to Poland, whose independence Germany recognizes. Poland also receives province of Posen and that portion of West Prussia west of the Vistula.

Saar coal basin internationalized temporarily. Coal mines go to France.

Germany recognizes total independence of German-Austria and Czecho-Slovakia.

Germany's colonies taken from her by clause in which she renounces all territorial and political rights outside Europe. League of Nations will work out mandatory system for governing these colonies.

Belgium is given conditionally the Malmédy and Eupen districts of Prussia, bordering on Belgium, with opportunity for the inhabitants to protest. League of Nations has final decision.

Luxembourg set free from the German customs union.

All concessions and territory in China must be renounced. Shantung ceded to Japan. Germany recognizes the French in Morocco, and British protectorate over Egypt.

German troops and authorities must evacuate Schleswig-Holstein north of Kiel Canal within ten days after peace. Commission will be appointed to supervise a vote of self-determination in the territory, and districts wishing to join Denmark will be ceded by Germany.

Heligoland must be demolished, by German labor; Kiel Canal must be opened to all nations.

German cables in dispute are surrendered.

Germany may not have an army of more than 100,000 men, and may not resort to conscription; must raze all her forts for fifty kilometers east of Rhine, and is almost entirely prohibited from producing war material. Violation of the fifty kilometer zone restriction will be considered an act of war.

Only six capital ships, of not more than 10,000 tons each, are allowed Germany for her navy. She is permitted six light cruisers, twelve destroyers and twelve torpedo boats in addition to six battleships; no submarines.

All civilian damages are to be reimbursed by Germany, her initial payment to be $5,000,000,000, with subsequent payments to be secured by bonds.

She must replace shipping ton for ton, handing over a great part of her mercantile tonnage and turning out new construction for this purpose. She also must devote her economic resources to rebuilding devastated regions.

Parts of Germany will be occupied on a diminishing scale until reparation is made.

Germany must agree to the trial of former Emperor Wilhelm by an international court for a supreme offence against international morality and to the trial of others of her subjects for violations of the laws and customs of war.

Allies and Germany accept the League of Nations. Germany, however, accepting only in principle and not as a member.

All treaties and agreements with Bolshevik Russia must be abrogated, as well as the treaty of Bucharest with Rumania.

German prisoners of war to be repatriated, but the Allies will hold German officers as hostages for Germans accused of crimes.
